

What is the timeline?

Answer: God only knows:) We are hoping to start moving dirt by the Fall of 2017 with a completion target date before the summer of 2018.

How much is it going to cost?

Answer: We have rough estimates that tell us the construction costs of the new building including site work will cost us around $3,000,0000.

Do you believe we can afford it?

Answer: Yes. We are confident that those who call TC3 home will support the effort and that it will be accomplished. We also have put in place a financial strategy that positions us to be able to approach the effort in a very healthy manner.

How long will the pledge campaign last?

Answer: We have set in motion a 3 year campaign to begin May 1, 2017. The campaign was also designed to be flexible. Some will be prompted to join for 3 years. Some people feel better with one time gifts. It is our hope that God would lead the individual as to how to respond.

What if I have a trade or business that might be useful?

Answer: If you have a trade or business that might be a useful support in the construction effort then please make us aware as early as possible. We will put you in touch with our construction managers and they can help get you involved. Contact info@tc3.org
